

Pronouns-2 (Introduction)

Replace the words in bold with appropriate pronouns:

1. Once there lived a king. The king was fair and kind to his subjects. But the queen was not happy with the king. The queen wanted the king to be fair with the queen too and spend more time with the queen.
2. Ali and his wife were unhappy as Ali and Ali's wife had no children. Ali and Ali's wife prayed to God. After some years, God answered their prayers and blessed Ali and Ali's wife with a son.
3. One day, when the queen was asleep, the wicked cook took the child away. The wicked cook then ran to the king and told the king that the wild beasts had taken his son away. But, the king understood at once that the cook was lying.
4. The king asked the cook, "What is that on your cheeks?" The cook touched his cheeks and saw that it was the baby powder. The cook got scared and started crying, "Oh my king, please forgive the cook." The king showed no mercy and asked his soldiers to take the cook away and throw the cook into the prison.